'TWAS THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

A Christ-centered adaptation by: Joel Klampert

- 1 'Twas the night before Christmas, and all through the world, Man's minds were cloudy, their hearts were all swirled; From beginning to end it's not often told, This story is new and also quite old;
- 2 Our tale begins, of course from the start, In the garden with Adam, followed by God's broken heart; Eve was tempted by knowledge and pride, While her husband stood passive, right by her side;
- 3 The greatest of love is to lay down one's own life, So why didn't he act to save his sweet wife; Ashamed they stood, pride divided their heart, Riddled by fears, their whole world fell apart;
- 4 Countless years go by, many hours are spent, Mans repair strategy never made a real dent; Prophets spoke up, straight from the Lord, Truth rang out, a loud hope had roared;
- 5 The Father above, a craftsman by trade, Stared at the gifts that his hands had made He made them whole and He made them right Now they lay broken, shattered by night
- 6 The misfits were nestled all snug in their sin, Awaiting redemption that soon would begin; The father and son since the beginning of time, Had a glorious plan to clean off man's grime;
- 7 An angel appeared to a young girl on that day, Fear not, you have favor is what he would say; And the peace from the creator poured out like an oil, On the squeaky heart of Mary, faithful and loyal;
- 8 She knew she was pregnant, her heart now made whole, Joseph stepped up, earthly father with soul; The dark one, now frantic, did all that he could, To stop the one who would crush death for good;
- 9 In the middle of a field stood the lowest of low, Tending their sheep when the sky started to glow; They shook in their sandals, Their eyes open wide, As an army of angels appeared in the sky;
- "I bring you good news" the angel had said, "you'll find him wrapped snug, while resting his head"; Their voices soared, what a song they would sing, Then the shepherds packed up to go find their new king;

- 11 They hurried to the village to see with their eyes, Astonished, they saw Him, and heard his sweet cries; The stories they'd tell, sharing with any who'd hear, That Jesus had come, The Messiah was here!
- 12 A few years had passed when some magi had heard, The prophecies were true and Herod got word; He sent them all out to seek and to find, With a ruse that he'd worship with all of mankind;
- 13 To Bethlehem they rode, navigating by star, Which stopped over a home, a sight so bizarre; They bowed down and worshiped leaving gifts at His feet, And left to trick Herod so death they'd not meet;
- 14 Mary sat with Gold, Frankincense and myrrh, Silently thinking, it's all been a blur; She knew what would happen, but did she know the whole truth, Did she trust that God's plan was completely foolproof?
- 15 Jesus grew up in wisdom and stature, Fully God, fully man, the Grace dispatcher; He took on flesh to save mankind's skin, God became misfit to free misfits from sin;
- 16 From heaven to earth, From manger to cross, He came to seek and save all who were lost; As he Hung on a tree mary saw her small child, Was now a man who's love was vivid and wild;
- 17 Too many are convinced that God turned his back, Because He was angry and we were off track; But The truth of this story comes in like the tide, As we see the real Father with arms open wide;
- 18 Recklessly loving, His eyes peppered with grace, All lives must change that look at His face; He loves us with passion, our value He views, Our God is alive!! Celebrate the good news!
- 19 When you sit with your family, as you unwrap and you eat, Remember that death has suffered defeat; We have been given a gift, receive His pure light, Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night.
